What is the Salt Cathedral of Zipaquira?

> On day 2 you descend about 180 meters below the surface to a Catholic church built inside a working salt mine in Zipaquira, known as the City of Salt. You then visit Zipaquira's church and cobbled square and enjoy a local lunch before a panoramic tour of Bogota's historic centre.

What can I do on my first evening in Bogota?

> After the airport transfer and check-in, the first evening is free. We suggest Zona G in the north of Bogota, an exclusive area known for its gourmet restaurants and wide variety of cuisine, popular with both visitors and locals.

What happens on the coffee region day at Cocora Valley and Salento?

> On day 4 you visit the Cocora Valley and learn about the wax palm, Colombia's national tree and the world's tallest palm, on a hike through the valley. After a typical lunch and a stop in Salento for its streets and handicrafts, you visit a traditional coffee farm to learn how coffee is produced and taste it at sunset.

Where do I stay in the coffee region?

> In the coffee region you stay at a hotel or finca (farmhouse) in the Pereira or Armenia area, chosen according to your hotel category. On arrival day there is time to relax and enjoy the facilities before the full-day excursion.

Is this tour good for coffee lovers?

> Yes, coffee is the heart of this tour. You visit the coffee triangle, where some of the world's best coffee is grown, tour a traditional farm, take part in the process behind world-class coffee and taste it yourself, with the Cocora Valley's forests and birdlife as a bonus.

What is included in the Cartagena city tour?

> The historic city tour starts with a panoramic view of Bocagrande, Castillogrande and the traditional Manga neighbourhood, includes tickets to the Castillo San Felipe, and continues with a typical lunch at Cuadrilonga restaurant. In the afternoon you take a horse carriage ride through the old town.

What happens on the Rosario Islands day?

> On day 7 you take a boat from the dock in Manga through the Rosario Islands, possibly seeing dolphins, to Isla San Pedro de Majagua. You can rent a canoe, snorkel, cycle around the island or relax on the beach, with a typical lunch before the boat back to Cartagena in the evening.

How many nights are spent in Cartagena?

> You spend three nights in Cartagena, arriving by flight on day 5 with a free evening, followed by the city tour on day 6 and the Rosario Islands on day 7. On day 8 you have breakfast and a transfer to the airport.

What is not included in the Taste of Colombia tour price?

> International flights to and from Colombia, gratuities, extra personal expenses, hotel insurance, local IVA tax where applicable, and anything not specified in the program are not included. Meals beyond those listed are also at your own expense.

Can I extend the Taste of Colombia tour to Medellin or Cali?

> Yes. The tour ends with a transfer to Cartagena airport on day 8, and you can add a private extension to Medellin or Cali, or extra nights in Cartagena. Ask us when booking and we will build the extension around your flights.

What are the deposit and balance terms for this Colombia tour?

> A deposit of 25 percent secures your place on the tour, and the balance is due 65 days before departure. For

Are there child prices on the Taste of Colombia tour?
