Frequently Asked Questions

How long is the Vienna to Paris journey on the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express

It is a 1-night journey. You board the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express in Vienna, settle into your cabin or suite, dine in the restored dining cars as the train sets off across Europe, and arrive in Paris the following day after breakfast on board. It is one of the most popular ways to experience the train over a single night.

Why is this called the Prague Route

The name distinguishes this Vienna to Paris routing, which travels by way of Prague, from other services between the two cities. The train follows a path through central Europe overnight rather than taking the most direct line. The exact routing and timings for your departure are confirmed in the travel documents we send before you travel.

Is the journey one way or does it return to Vienna

It runs one way, Vienna to Paris. Your travel to Vienna beforehand and onward from Paris afterwards are arranged separately, which leaves you free to build city stays at either end. If you would prefer to travel in the opposite direction, the Paris to Vienna departure on the same routing is also offered - ask us and we will send both sets of dates.

Which cabins and suites can I book

Five categories are available: Historic Cabin, Suite - Double, Suite - Twin, Grand Suite and L'Observatoire. All are within meticulously restored 1920s carriages and all come with steward service throughout. Availability and the fare for each category on your chosen date are shown in the departure list on this page.

What is the L'Observatoire accommodation

L'Observatoire is the most distinctive category offered on the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express and sits at the top of the range alongside the Grand Suites, well above the Historic Cabins on which the lead-in fare is based. It is released in very small numbers on each departure. Contact us early if you would like it, and we will confirm availability and the current fare for your date.

What is included in the fare

One night on board is included, along with the table d'hôte dining served in the restored dining cars, afternoon tea, a welcome beverage, on-board entertainment and steward service throughout the journey. Everything described as included in the itinerary is covered, so the on-board programme requires no further payment.

What is not included in the price

Travel to Vienna and onward from Paris is not included, nor are hotels at either end, personal expenses, gratuities, travel insurance or anything not expressly listed in the itinerary. Items ordered outside the included dining

What is dinner like on board the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express

Dinner is a table d'hote menu served in the restored 1920s dining cars, and on a one-night journey it is the centrepiece of the experience, beginning shortly after the train leaves Vienna. Breakfast follows the next morning before arrival in Paris. Tell us about any dietary requirements at the time of booking so they can be prepared for in advance.

What is Bar Car 3674

Bar Car '3674' takes its name from the carriage's own number and is where guests gather before and after dinner for drinks, live entertainment and conversation. On a one-night journey it is where most of the evening is spent. It is among the most recognisable spaces on any train in Europe.

How does the cabin work for sleeping

Your steward converts the daytime arrangement into sleeping accommodation each evening while you are at dinner or in the Bar Car, and turns it back in the morning. The Historic Cabins are the classic 1920s compartments, while the Suites offer more space and additional facilities. Every category on this journey has a dedicated steward on call throughout.

When does the Vienna to Paris service run

Departures currently on sale run from 22 August 2027 through to 20 December 2027, with ten dates open at the time of writing. Every date and its fare by accommodation category appear in the booking list on this page. The December dates in particular sell early, so contact us as soon as you have a date in mind.

How is the fare quoted

Fares are quoted per person based on two people sharing a cabin or suite, and vary by category and by departure date. Rather than publish a figure that may move, we show the exact fare for each departure in the booking list on this page and confirm the final amount in writing before any payment is taken.

Can I travel alone on this journey

Yes. A single occupancy fare is published and is shown alongside the sharing fare on this page. Because a solo guest occupies the whole cabin or suite, the single fare is higher than the per person sharing rate. Space for solo travellers is limited on each departure, so early contact is worthwhile.

What deposit is needed and when is the balance due

A deposit of 15 percent of the booking value confirms your accommodation, with the balance due 61 days before departure. Bookings made within 61 days of the departure date are payable in full at the time of booking. The exact deposit, balance and due date appear on your written confirmation.

How are children priced

Child fares are based on the child's age on the departure date, in bands of 0 to under 5 years and 5 to under 12 years; guests aged 12 and over pay the adult fare. The journey is formal in character with a long dinner and an early night. Tell us the ages in your party and we will confirm fares and the accommodation that works.

How do I get to Vienna and where does the train leave from

Travel to Vienna is not included, so you can arrive by air or rail as you prefer. We recommend arriving the day before rather than on the morning of departure, and we can arrange hotel nights and private transfers in the city. The exact boarding station and time for your departure are confirmed in your travel documents.

What happens when the train arrives in Paris

Breakfast is served on board before arrival, and the journey concludes in Paris, where onward travel is yours to arrange. We can quote for a transfer to your Paris hotel or the airport, and for hotel nights in the city afterwards. Please avoid booking a tight onward flight, as arrival times can vary slightly.

Can you arrange hotels in Vienna and Paris around the journey

Yes. Hotels are not part of this fare, but we arrange them regularly and can quote for stays in Vienna before the train and Paris afterwards, along with transfers between hotel, station and airport. Because this is a one-night journey, most guests build several nights into at least one of the two cities.

What should I pack and is there a dress code

Guests dress up on the Venice Simplon-Orient-Express: the evening in the dining cars and Bar Car '3674' is formal in spirit, with smart, comfortable clothing for the day. Cabins in a restored 1920s carriage are elegant rather than large, so travel light and keep an overnight bag to hand. Detailed guidance comes with your travel documents.
